Foreign cables show a continuation in the declipe in British consols. London again lost gold to Egypt and a general tone of uneasiness ruled. Our own money markets were dull but firm, with further losses to the sub-treasury from the banks, due largely to withdrawns from warehouses.

Stocks came to market today in a manner that led many commission houses to advise their clients to prepare for a further readjustment of prices.

Some time before the end of the contest the complete list of 77 book titles with the names of the authors will be deposited in a local bank under the direction of the publisher of this paper and the three judges. The list of correct titles will not be withdrawn until all sets of answers have been received and entered on a record. The system that will be used will make it impossible for an error to occur and a dozen safeguards will be thrown around the checking of the sets and the public will be invited to witness the checking.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest

Read Them Carefully-It Will Aid You to Win a Prize

The Salt Lake Tribune's Brooklovers' Contest is open to all residents of Utah, Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming only. Prizes to the amount of $1500.00 will be given to the winners in this contest.

There will appear daily for 77 days a picture representing the title of a book. Beneath this picture will be an answer blank to fill in the name of the book and name and address of entrant. Cut out the picture and answer blank each day, filling in the book title only, writing your name and address neatly and plainly (either written in long hand with pen or pencil, or typewritten or printed to suit the fancy of the person sending them in).

BOOK KNOWLEDGE IS ABSOLUTELY NOT NECESSARY IN ORDER TO SOLVE THE PICTURES. On or about the appearance of picture No. 1, a catalogue containing 5000 book titles, alphabetically arranged, will be issued, containing the 77 book titles represented by the 77 pictures. With this catalogue you will be able to correctly solve the 77 pictures.

Each picture represents the title of one book only. If you are not certain of your answer you may send in as many as ten answers to each picture. Thus, if you think picture No. 1 is solved by one answer, use only one answer blank. If you think it requires ten answers, use ten answers. If one of your ten answers is correct you will be credited with a correct answer. Incorrect answers will not count against contestant if correct answer is also given.

Prizes will be awarded to contestants sending in largest number of correct answers. The person submitting the highest number of correct answers will receive the first prize, and so on. In case two or more contestants send in the same number of correct answers, the one using the least number of answers will receive the higher prize. In case two or more contestants send in the same number of correct answers and use the same number of answer blanks, prizes equal in number to those tied will be added together and equally divided. Thus, if three contestants should each send in 71 answers correct and each use 230 answer blanks, and each was entitled to the second prize, the second, third and fourth prizes, respectively, would be added together and the sum, $350.00, be divided equally among the three contestants.

More than one prize will not be awarded to a family at one address, but each member of the family may enter the contest and submit a set of answers. Members of a family living at different addresses may enter the contest and be
